

CHOOSE YOUR OWN ADVENTURE: I HAVE TIME

A universe of possibilities opens when you plan to make bread, and every decision you make along the way can lead you to a different outcome. You can make choices depending on your available time, your preferred flours and flavors and textures, a partiality for rustic or refined appearances, or any number of other variables. The decision trees detailed on the following pages illustrate some of the questions that you can ask when you are determining the outcome of your baked loaf, but these
